'Campus Clean-Up Days' proclaimed May 19-21

"Campus Clean-Up Days" will be proclaimed by President Eugene B. Elliott as May 19 through 21 at the recommendation of the Student Council and the President's Policy Council.

Individuals, organizations, and faculty will work to clean up the grounds from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 19. In case of rain, the project will be postponed until the same time Thursday.

Organizations that wish to participate should appoint a chairman and sign up for a particular area which will be previously mapped out. The signing up may be done in the office of William C. Lawrence, Vice President for Student Affairs, from Tuesday, May 12 until Monday, May 18.

The best organization will be honored at the central bonfire where collected debris will be burned. Free hot dogs, potato chips, coffee and pop will be available at the bonfire to those who participate in the clean-up. Tools for the project will be lent by faculty members. Music will be played over the Pierce Hall loudspeaker system during the work.

Council seminar picks topics

"What is maturity?" and "What is tolerance and how is it expressed?" will be discussed by EMC students and faculty at the annual spring seminar May 23.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the event will be held at the campus picnic grounds. Lunch will be provided free of charge, Joanne Regan, chairman of the seminar, announced this week.

Registration forms are available at the McKenny Hall information desk, and must be submitted by 4:00 p.m. Wednesday, May 13.

Construction underway at health center

Construction is underway on an addition to the old EMC Health Service in order to convert it to the Frederick Alexander Music Hall.

Paving set for campus roads

Paving of the roads in the area around Downing and Buell residence halls and Quirk Theatre will be started before the end of May, it was announced this week.

Included in the project will be a 28-foot roadway from St. John Street to Rackham, an extension of the Downing sidewalk, a service area in front of Downing, and a service road for the dramatic arts building. The work should be completed before the end of the semester.

Present plans call for keeping the road open from one end at all times during the work.

A new 90 car parking lot is also being planned in connection with the Glenadine Snow Health Service. It will have a gate operated by coin or card.

Aurora faces cloudy future

Lack of student interest may mean an end to continued publication of the Aurora, Eastern's annual student yearbook.

Both the Student Council and the Board in Control of Student Publications discussed the possibility of eliminating the yearbook this week after it was revealed that less than 10 per cent of the student body had purchased this year's edition.

College officials noted that the low sale had been a "common occurrence" for many years. They said that usually only around 400 yearbooks are sold annually, with only a small part of publication costs paid by revenue from sales of the book. The remaining money must be taken from student fee funds.

The debate on whether or not to eliminate the yearbook broke into the arena of the Student Council Tuesday night. Lois Cannon, Council representative to the Board in Control of Student Publications, commented on the Board's discussion and said that she felt the Aurora might better be done away with since there had been no applications for the editor or business manager of next year's yearbook.

Other students took different attitudes. "There has never been a first-class Aurora and if there were one, the students would buy it," secretary Carole Hays told the Council meeting.

Another student called the Aurora "the worst yearbook on any college campus in the country."

Among the proposals made at Tuesday's meeting was one to raise the activity fees of students and give a yearbook free to everyone. Other proposals were also discussed.

The Council ended the discussion by deciding to invite Vice-President of Planning and Development James Green, who also is on the Publications Board, to talk at the next Council meeting on the problems connected with the Aurora.

The next Council meeting, which is open to all students, is scheduled for Tuesday, May 12, at 8:00 p.m. in McKenny Hall.

Set date for Marathon and coed cyclists' contest

Mad Man's Marathon and the Crazy Coed Cyclist's yearly pushcart race will begin at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, May 23.

The final entrance date is Wednesday, May 20, at which time entries must be accompanied with a two dollar fee.

Each men's organization is limited to one pushcart, and all runners must be students of EMC.

The Crazy Coed Cyclists race will begin at the finish of the men's marathon, approximately 10:30 a.m. The bicycle race is open to all women's organizations on campus, and, of course, a two dollar entrance fee is required.

Entry blanks, raceday rules, exchange zones, pushcart and field rules may be picked up at Mr. Kitson's office in McKenny Hall immediately.

GETTING IN SHAPE for the opening night of Hakim. The musical production will have its local premiere Wednesday, May 13, at the Quirk Theatre for a five-performance run. Open sale of tickets will begin Monday at the Quirk Theatre box office.

Editorially Speaking:

Students and spring fever

The combination of spring and college students has long been known to produce strange antics and whimsical behavior. College officials, law enforcement officers, and the newspaper-reading public have looked for years with amused tolerance on activities ranging from swallowing goldfish to testing the capacity of telephone booths.

However, there is a point beyond which an activity is no longer funny; when an action endangers the health or welfare of another individual, it is not a "joke."

It is not funny to impersonate a student's mother over the telephone and give "permission" for an injection to which the student may be allergic. There is nothing amusing about a fire in a dormitory endangering lives and property.

A false report of illness which needlessly brings an ambulance to campus is not humorous.

It is also difficult to be amused by students being "taken for a ride" by pledges and being subjected to treatment bordering on brutality.

Yet, all of these incidents occurred within the past few weeks at EMC. Cannot all college students, who clamor so loudly that they deserve consideration as adults, demonstrate that they know the difference between that which is funny and that which is merely dangerous and irresponsible?

Weekly Official Bulletin

Publication of any notice in the Weekly Official Bulletin is to be considered official notification for all members of the college community. All persons are responsible for reading the bulletin each week.

Notices for the Weekly Official Bulletin must be turned in to Room 201, Pierce Hall (to Mr. Green) by 10 a.m. on Wednesday. They must be typed and should be marked "For Weekly Official Bulletin."

Work Available

Applications are now being accepted for work during summer and fall registration in the office of the Vice President for Instruction, Pierce 146.

In order to be eligible to work for fall registration, the student must be pre-registered, academically eligible (2.0), and not doing student teaching.

The deadline for filing applications for the operation of the football concessions for the Fall Semester, 1959, is Monday, May 11. Ralph F. Gilden, Dean of Student Activities

Pre-Registration Ends This Week

All students to be in attendance next semester should be pre-registered this week. If you did not pre-register, see your adviser and do so. If you do not know who your adviser is, go to the Recorder's Office, room 134 Pierce Hall and learn his identity.

Pre-registered students have their programs for next semester guaranteed, so protect yourself.

Passing Through:
Participation

by C. W. Cheng

Politics is a dirty game . . . politicians are corrupt . . . political parties are not interested in the people.

These are a few of the phrases used to describe one of the most underrated institutions in our country. Perhaps some of the statements are true but in actuality it is largely because people fail to work in or understand the political world that they make these statements which are, for the most part, unwarranted.

Unfortunately, many students on this campus have a negative attitude toward politics which is resultant from the fact that they do not understand this occupation, or we could use the term apathy to explain some students' attitudes.

More than any other field does politics affect all areas of society and all institutions of society. Yet too many people familiarize themselves with political parties or political issues only when a key crisis arises such as the present financial situation of this state brought on by the legislature.

One of man's consistent frailties in character makeup is manifested in our penchant feeling to never concern ourselves with significant issues until we are directly involved by the issue. This is the case with politics.

The power and freedom to enjoy the benefits of suffrage and political participation go hand in hand and both are invaluable possessions for free citizens. It is deplorable that the future citizens, conscientious college students, do not give consideration to active work in politics, let alone those who now have the authority to do so.

Since most students want to enjoy the pleasures and enjoy the opportunities offered in our country, it seems extremely ironic that so few are unwilling to devote any active effort in a field that unquestionably relates to and touches all phases of our lives.

It should never be forgotten that the work conducted on the grassroots level is just as important as the highest political office and just as important as crucial political questions, for the work on the low level has far reaching effects on the highest plane.

On the grassroots scene, we are not only perpetuating the democratic machine of our choice but we too are orienting ourselves to a clearer understanding of the operation of our government and a clearer understanding of political issues.

Naturally a few extra hours a month may be required but the short time spent will be well worth improving and preserving the operations of our representative democracy.

The concise statement of Woodrow Wilson in his book Congressional Government very simply illustrates what can occur if we do not become conscious of the most rudimentary element of democracy that we now hold, for Wilson stated, "No more vital truth was ever uttered than that freedom and free institutions

to speak here

William J. Schlatter, Associate Dean of the School of Business Administration, will discuss the opportunities and advantages of the graduate program of the University of Michigan on Wednesday, May 13, at 8:00 p.m.

He will speak at McKenny Hall to the Faculty of the Business Studies Department and the members of Psi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. The meeting will also be open to underclassmen and those nearing graduation who feel that this subject would be of value to them.

Draft registrants
warned on cards

Draft registrants in many instances have been changing their registration certificates to indicate an age of 21 or over to represent falsely that they are eligible to buy liquor or to be admitted to places forbidden by law to persons under 21. Selective Service has been working closely with liquor control and police officials in an attempt to curb these practices.

Possession of altered registration certificates has always been considered a violation of the Selective Service Act, but it has been difficult to prosecute such cases successfully in the absence of intent to evade services or to defraud.

New regulations just issued to all draft boards now make it possible for the local board to declare a registrant delinquent if he fails to possess a registration certificate which has not been changed or altered.

When declared delinquent under this procedure, registrants may be ordered for induction ahead of all other registrants. If they fail to report, they will then be referred to U. S. attorneys for prosecution.

Colonel Holmes has urged all registrants with altered draft certificates to obtain new certificates from local boards prior to July 1. Local boards have been directed to issue new certificates to registrants who turn in altered certificates. After July 1 draft boards will apply the stringent new procedure.

Two from faculty to teach abroad

Two EMC faculty members, John L. Hafenrichter and James D. Allen, have been selected to participate in the International Education Exchange program under the Smith-Mundt Act.

Mr. Hafenrichter, acting head librarian, has been assigned as visiting professor of library science at the University of Nepal in Katmandu, Nepal. He will continue the organization work begun there by Walfred Erickson, EMC head librarian, under a similar grant. Dr. Erickson is expected to return here September 1.

Rabat, Morocco is the destination of Mr. Allen, an instructor in the English and Speech Department. He has been assigned to teach English as a foreign language at a national school in Rabat. Early this summer he will go to Washington, D.C., for special classes at American University and for State Department briefings.

Stoic Society selects new officers; each to receive 1960 scholarships

Seven EMC students of superior scholastic ability were named winners of annual Stoic Society scholarships at the honorary group's annual May Breakfast Sunday morning.

Announcement of a loan fund, with money to be raised through the sale of Eastern Michigan University stationery, was also made. Miss Martha Best, former advisor of the Stoic Society, received the honor of having the loan fund named for her.

Award recipients and their scholarships, to be awarded next spring, are: president, Donna Deter of Addison, the E. A. Strong Scholarship; vice president, Robert Christ of Ypsilanti, the Carl E. Pray scholarship; corresponding secretary, Barbara Bush of Detroit, the Daniel and Mary Putnam scholarship; reporter, Dan Shirmer of Trenton, the Benjamin L. D'Ooge scholarship; and Margaret Christenson of Pontiac, the Julia Ann King scholarship.

Sunday's breakfast was addressed by Assistant Professor of English Lenore T. Bingley, who chose the topic "Bushels or Candlesticks?" to remind students that they had the duty to shed light, to stand up for what is right and to actively, not passively, talk and work against wrongdoings wherever they occur, on campus or elsewhere.

Student Council members to meet

A meeting of the newly-elected Student Council will be held May 12 at 7:00 p.m. in the General Lounge of McKenny Hall.

All new and old Student Council members have been asked to attend. The agenda shall consist of confirmation of appointments and the making of committee assignments.

A noted American dancer, Gertrude Lippincott, will give a master lesson demonstration and lecture at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 20, at the EMC Women's gymnasium.

A choreographer, teacher and author of articles on the modern dance, Miss Lippincott will teach the master lesson under the auspices of the Women's Physical Education Department and the Orchesis Dance Club. Admission is free.

Miss Lippincott is director of the Dance Repertory Group, a professional group of dancers in Minneapolis.

Downing girls entertain moms

Residents of Downing Hall held a mother's weekend Friday, Saturday and Sunday and entertainment, including a fashion show, tea, and a talent show highlighted the event.

Mothers of the residents arrived at the hall beginning Friday evening for a weekend taste of dormitory life. The talent show followed Sunday dinner, and a style show and a tea was presented later Sunday afternoon.

Chairmen of the event were Carole Burwitz and Carole Fox. Other girls who worked on the affair included Carol Brown, Suzanne Hart, Nancy Glasson, Sarah Karling, Sandra Koval, Sylvia Smith, Frances Cassidy, Sandra Dehnke, Carol Murray, JoAnne Schleyer, Miriam Carroll, Dianne Vasher, Valentine Forfa, Barbara Richards, and Adeline Ciotti.

Election scheduled by Radio-TV club

The newly-organized Radio-TV club at Eastern announces that its first annual elections are to be held next Tuesday evening at 7:00 in the radio studio of the Quirk Theater.

These elections are for officers to control the organization beginning next fall. All interested persons may attend, and become a part of Eastern Michigan University's most rapidly growing field of extra-curricular activity. Experience is not necessary to qualify for membership. In addition to delving into the radio industry and its myriad sidelines, practical experience will be afforded through the use of the excellent new "broadcast quality" equipment in the new Quirk studio.

Such activities as field trips and guest speakers are anticipated in addition to many club activities on campus.

Local nine wins one but drops next two

The EMC baseball squad picked up its first win Saturday after seven straight failures but still dropped the week-end series to the Eastern Illinois Panthers at Charleston two games to one.

In their Friday night encounter, the Hurons out-hit their Illinois opposition ten to five but failed to capitalize on this advantage while losing 5-4. The Hurons drew first blood, plating two men in the second inning to take a brief lead. However, the Eastern Illinois nine came right back in their half of the inning to tie the game up 2 all.

The Panthers tallied again in the fourth but the victory-starved Hurons came back in the top of the sixth with two counters as John Kubiak singled, Charles Shonta sacrificed and was safe on an error by the shortstop Larry Crociano, Bill Shelton singled and Hal Duffield knocked in Kubiak and Shonta with a single to left. However, Eastern Illinois pitchers Moomey and Brown shut the door on the Hurons for the rest of the contest while their own stickers picked up an additional two runs to salt away another EMC defeat. Ron Gulyas went all the way for the Hurons and absorbed the loss.

In the first game on Saturday the Hurons picked up their first victory of the 1959 season via a six run second inning and three hit pitching by Ted Nix. Charlie Shonta's two run double-featured the big second.

The second game was a real heartbreaker for Niel Otto to drop. Although allowing the Panthers ten hits Otto kept the Illinois nine at bay with only two runs for the first nine innings. However, Chuck Miller of the Panthers allowed only four stingily separated hits to the Hurons and the score was tied at 2-2 going into the bottom of the tenth. First-baseman Bob Ludwig ended all Huron aspirations for a win streak however, as he lead the Panther half of the inning with a home run to decide the contest. On Monday, the Hurons dropped their ninth decision in ten contests before a somewhat disappointed Briggs Stadium turnout against Bowling Green State University. The local nine took it on the chin 12-3.

Bright spots in the game were home runs by Charles Shonta and Hal Duffield. However, the Hurons sum total of mental errors (i.e. a runner thrown out at second on a single or a double being played into a home run) are the most disheartening actions to the EMC fans. The Hurons will try to crack into the win column once again this weekend with a single game on Friday and a double-header on Saturday against Northern Illinois.

Jones' 4 firsts nil; Miami takes Eastern

In their first outdoor track meet of the spring, the Hurons were edged 65-57 at Oxford, Ohio this Saturday by the University of Miami Redskins. This feat was accomplished by Miami despite the disadvantage of having Eastern take first places in 8 of the fourteen events.

The miraculous Hayes Jones, who captured five firsts and a third against the Redskins two springs ago, once again set the pace of the EMC squad by sweeping the four events which he entered. However, the squad's lack of depth and rustiness from a forced lay-off evidenced itself in Saturday's meet. The Hurons were held to six second place finishes and even more pitifully, two third places. Miami's "slam" in sweeping the first three places in the 440 led by Waltman's blazing 49.5 was possibly the bitterest pill the proud Hurons have suffered in some time.

Nevertheless, despite the lack of depth, the rustiness and the Miami sweep of the 440, the EMC contingent went into the final mile relay with a chance to salvage victory. But, as luck would have it, Levi Simpson, who regularly is a major cog in this quartet, had pulled a hamstring muscle in taking a second in the broad jump earlier in the meet. Thus the Redskins loped over the finish line in a time of 3:24, a time bettered on several occasions by a sound Eastern relay team.

The Hurons will have a chance to redeem themselves at Mt. Pleasant this evening, but sadly, must accomplish the feat without Simpson. Levi's injury is of the slow-healing variety and may keep him out of the league meet at Eastern on the 22nd and 23rd. Statistics:

Pole vault: Robinson (EM); Gay (EM) and Wildermuth (M) tied 13 ft.

High jump: Jones (EM), Stevens (EM), and Russell (M) 6 ft.

Duffers take 2 of 3; Wayne, Central victims

The EMC golfers improved their record via two wins in three matches during the past week. The Hurons swamped Wayne on Friday 13½-1½ and split a triangular with Western Illinois and Central Michigan on Monday. The local squad whipped Central 14½-5½ and lost to Western 13½-10½.

Against Wayne, Cliff Zill led the par-busting Hurons with a one under par 71 on the Washenaw course. Cliff picked up 2½ points in this match over his opponent Belefleur's ½. In other matches, Ed Meredith took Lid-decost 2½-½, Lloyd Otto whipped Costello 3-0, Flomer Jensen defeated Takatish 2½-½ and Al Sebert shut out Foagos 3-0.

In Monday's triangular, Jensen was the Huron medalist with a 75, Zill fired a 76, Norv Schock a 77, Sebert a 78, Otto a 79, and Meredith an 80. Match results against Central were Zill 4-0 over Walker, Jensen tied 2-2 with Munson, Meredith whipped Swartz 4-0, Otto tied Kelley 2-2, and Sebert defeated Catto 2½-1½.

Match scores against Western were: King over Zill 3-1, Jensen

Netters take two over weekend; win streak now at four straight

by Bob Quick

Once again the Huron netters had a profitable weekend, taking two matches; Denison on Friday 7-2, and Hillsdale on Saturday 8-1. With the addition of these two victories the Hurons now have a win streak totaling four straight. This statistic shows promise of a higher league finish for the EMC squad.

In the Denison match, which was held on the EMC courts, the Hurons won every singles match with the lone exception of the number one singles. In that match Joe Siedl bowed 6-1, 6-2.

In winning the other matches, Bob Martian won 6-2, 8-6; Bennie Brose took his encounter 6-2, 1-6, 6-3; Dick Davey topped his foe 7-5, 6-0; Bob Opitck breezed by his opponent 6-0, 6-1; and Elwood Leslie finished off his man 6-0, 6-3.

In the doubles matches, Brose and Martian lost the number one doubles 6-1, 6-2; Siedl and Davey won 6-3, 6-3; and Opitck and Leslie won 6-4, 6-3.

On Saturday, the Hurons traveled to Hillsdale and shellacked the Dales without too much extra effort. Siedl again lost the number one singles match 6-1, 2-6, 6-4 but every other Huron was victorious. Martian 6-4, 6-3; Brose 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Davey 7-5, 6-0; Opitck 6-0, 6-1; and Leslie 6-0, 6-3 were the victorious Hurons in the singles matches.

The doubles teams all were victorious also with Seidl and Martian winning 9-7, 4-6, 6-3; Brose and Davey taking a forfeit 6-0, 6-0; and Opitck and Leslie captured the finale 6-0, 6-2.

The next match is this Saturday at 1:00 p.m. on the Eastern courts with Central Michigan providing the opposition.

Green tromps White 20-0 in annual spring grid classic

The annual Green and White game, terminating spring football practice ended in a 20-0 verdict for the Green squad Thursday evening.

Bob Seymour led the Green victory thrust by tallying twice, going 30 yards with a blocked punt recovery for the first score and receiving a 25 yard pass from quarterback Bill Hyde for the second. Brian Dunn plunged five yards for the other TD, which terminated a sustained march of some 55 yards following an interception by Gary Dode. Hyde ran the conversion after the third counter for the final two points.

Until Seymour's first dash, the took Espisito 4-0, Otto lost to Gleacher 3-1, Sebert whipped Ryskiewicz (last year's medalist in the IIAC meet) 3½-½, and Brick won over Schock 3-1.

As the last trio of Zill, Walker, and King approached the last two holes, Eastern was in quite favorable position to win both matches. However, Western's King birdied both the 17th and 18th to erase Zill's two up lead.

In pre-season predictions, Western Illinois, Northern Illinois, Southern Illinois and EMC were considered chief threats for the IIAC crown. EMC has been edged by both Western and Southern in matches thus far and will take on Northern this Friday to get a taste of all the challenging opposition to the crown.

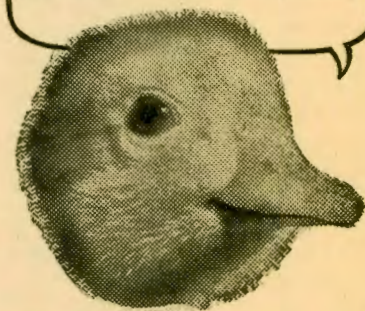

ballgame had been a match of the defensive wares of both clubs. For the first half of the game neither team so much as severely threatened the sanctity of the others goal. But after 4:09 of the third period, the game was all the Green's.

In the feature attraction of the evening, the S. Monetta Memorial Trophy, awarded the most improved player of each spring session was presented to Chuck Elmquist, a 220 pound freshman tackle from Redford. Also honored was Ray Rafford, who was given a small trophy for "most hustling player" in spring practice.

In selecting the outstanding players for the contest, one could not overlook the performances of Jim Kaechele, Elmquist, and Rafford in the line as well as Captain Dave Longridge, Emil Majeski, Jim Whiteside, Bill Wolfe and Dunn in the backfield.

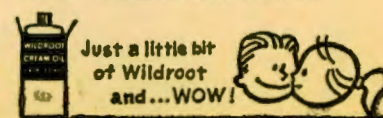

The game did prove that the local eleven will possibly be a little weaker defensively next season, but that was to be expected. Best and most complete summary of the game and practice was possibly given by Coach Fred Trosko when he said, "This is the best hustling bunch of players I've had since I've been at Eastern."

Field day scheduled

The ROTC 59th cadet brigade personnel will participate in a military field day from 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 14, at the Briggs football stadium.

Battle drill, stretcher race, band, and platoon drill competition are some of the activities scheduled.

Students to help in bird count Sunday

An attempt to count both migrant and resident birds around the EMC campus will be conducted by classes in ornithology under the direction of Profs. Herbert H. Caswell, Maud Hukill, and the Audubon Naturalists Society on Sunday, May 10 from 5:00 to 11:30 a.m.

The count is part of a nationwide effort to study population trends in North American birds during the spring migration. The study was originally begun at Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York.

Anyone interested in birdlife is welcome to join the survey and should contact Prof. Caswell at his college office or his home.

EMC to host linguistics meeting

The Michigan Linguistic Society will hold its annual spring meeting at 10:00 a.m., Saturday, May 9, at McKenny Hall.

"The Position of Linguistics among the Sciences" and "Linguistic Theory and the Language Laboratory" will be among the topics discussed.

Speakers will include faculty members from Michigan State University, the University of Michigan, and Eastern Michigan

Adahi to select senior women soon

Adahi, local senior women's honorary, will hold its annual tapping ceremony on the mall Tuesday, May 19, at 7:00 p.m.

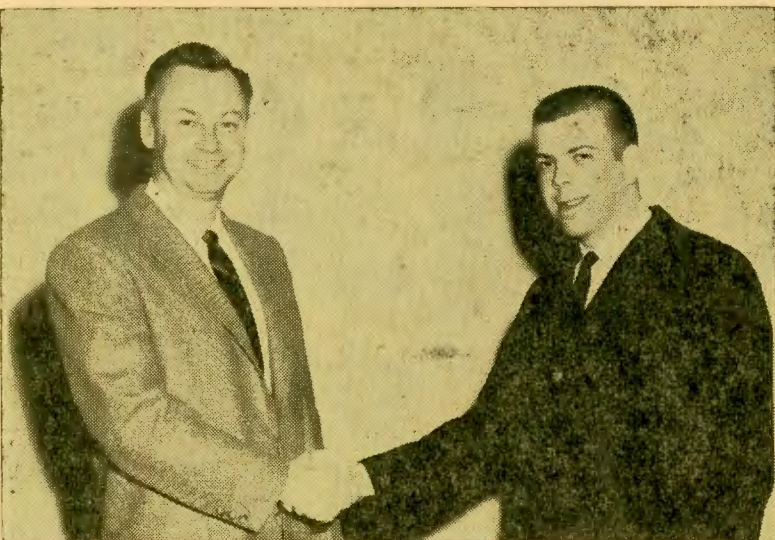

Each year, the group honors senior women on the EMC campus who have excelled in scholarship, leadership, and service.

Adahi members serenade each of the women's residence halls the night before tapping and leaves one candle for each girl to be tapped. Mu Phi Epsilon will assist in the serenade.

Roosevelt alumni plan annual reunion dinner

Roosevelt School has scheduled its annual reunion and alumni banquet for Saturday, May 23, at 6:15 in the McKenny Hall Cafeteria.

Reservations for the event must be made by Thursday, May 14. The group entertains the senior class at the banquet, with individual alumni paying the cost of the seniors' dinners.

EMC professor to discuss Physics

"What We Should Expect of High School Physics?" will be the panel discussion topic on Saturday, May 9, at Hope College.

Prof. James M. Barnes of Eastern's Physics department will participate in the discussion when the spring meeting of the Michigan section of the American Association of Physics Teachers meets at Holland, Michigan.

Meteorologist to address students

"From Cloud Droplets to Rain Droplets" will be the lecture topic of Dr. Horace R. Byers tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Strong Auditorium.

Dr. Byers, Chairman of the Department of Meteorology at the University of Chicago, is a visiting lecturer of the American Meteorological Society and the National Science Foundation, and is an authority on thunderstorms and the physics of precipitation.

Tomorrow morning he will be available as a consultant in the Strong Building Physics Reading Room to students of physics and mathematics. Dr. Byers will speak to EMC weather classes in the afternoon.

'Beatnik' poetry gives red face to editor

Beatnik poetry has been penetrating the market for literature in college newspapers and literary magazines, according to a recent ACP release.

The editors of Corral, the Oklahoma State University literary magazine, recently printed a poem as gloriously beat, they felt, as anything that had been submitted.

It was printed as follows under the title "Counterfeit Generation":

"Dissentient, arrant they come. Such paucity transcends Existence, the very essence of life.

With affinity these extrinsic souls —furiously incarnate, The entity cognate, spectral, absolute, perpetual—show The aderration of the fraternity fraught with the ignis

Fatuus ideal that to transpose coalescent nullities with

Ubiquity, a borugeois, primordial dribble of reality is Vital to eternal quipoise. Haunted they come, they balefully intaglio psyches

Sublime with illusory grandeur —acquiescent with restless Self-deception."

An editor appended this observation: "The vocabulary is demanding, but an interesting subject makes it worthwhile."

Only then did the poet, Robert L. McCulloh, head of the university news bureau, speak up. There is no subject, said he, but the vocabulary is demanding, all right.

Word-dazzled one night while browsing through a thesaurus, onetime news man McCulloh wrote 35 especially incandescent words on separate pieces of paper. Then he stuck them in a box, pulled them out at random, tacked them together with appropriate connectives, and added the wry title.

Begin fund in memory of Prof. Loesell

A Memorial Equipment Fund established in the memory of Prof. C. M. Loesell, formerly the head of EMC's natural science department, has been founded under the auspices of the Natural Science Department, it was announced today.

Faculty, students, alumni, and friends of the college are being invited to donate money to the fund which was organized to perpetuate the memory of the late Prof. Loesell and his interest in individuals preparing for a career in science.

Money raised will be deposited with the Student Aid Corporation, and will provide laboratory equipment not otherwise available to students.

Each piece of equipment bought by the fund will be permanently identified by an inscribed plate marked: "Obtained through the Clarence M. Loesell Memorial Equipment Fund."

Contributions can be directed to the Loesell Memorial Equipment Fund, in care of the secretary of the Student Aid Corporation, EMC, Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Prof. Loesell joined the Natural Science Department in 1925, became a full professor in 1936, and the head of the department in 1940. He retired last August, a few days prior to his death.

Pi Kap banquet, other activities keep speech students busy

Pi Kappa Delta, Eastern's honorary speech fraternity, held its annual banquet April 18 and awarded its annual Honorary Member Award and Distinguished Alumni Award for 1959.

Recipient of the Honorary Member citation was Mr. John Sargent of the EMC faculty and Judge Francis O'Brian received the Distinguished Alumni Award.

Special awards for advanced rating went to members Elaine Bondy, Joanne Regan, Arlene Muir and Alton Helms. Scholarship awards were given to Jo Hirsch and Arlene Muir. Mr. Sargent was guest speaker.

The banquet program was concluded with the installation of next year's officers. New president of the group is Chuck Cabbage, vice-president is Elaine Bondy, secretary is Jo Hirsch and treasurer is Arlene Roman.

Six EMC students on May 9 will attend the Public Address festival sponsored by the Michigan Interstate Speech League at Ferris Institute. Those going, who will present six-minute speeches, are Jacque McCullough, Miriam Rogers, Bill Stephens, Sharon Reisman, Anne Todd and Jack Staron.

Eastern will also send a debate team to the Flint Cultural Festival on May 9 to debate: "Resolved: That cultural centers make a major contribution to the advancement of a technological society." Those going will be Jan Quinlan, a freshman from Royal Oak; Jo Hirsch, a freshman from Miami, Florida; and Mr. Grant Wessel, the debate coach.

Five schools will participate here next Tuesday for the Swan-Song Debate Tournament, the last tourney of the year. To be held at the Daniel Quirk Building, it will draw teams from University of Detroit, Wayne State University, Flint Junior College, University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan College. "Resolved: That the further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement," is the topic.

What's happening?

The Board in Control of Inter-collegiate Athletics at EMC reportedly held a meeting at 4:00 p.m. Monday afternoon. According to a statement from Floyd Leib, chairman, the Echo was barred from the meeting due to the fact that "confidential material was to be discussed." The Echo is sorry to say that there is nothing to report on the somewhat pressing issue of conference status. Therefore, the staff desires to state that lack of information on the meeting is not due to negligence in reporting.

German poetry, music is feature at meeting

The last indoor meeting of the EMC German Club will be held Wednesday, May 13.

German music and poetry will highlight the entertainment at the meeting and election of new officers will follow. All people interested in German are welcome.
